 The bestselling memoir by Nobel Peace Prize winner Malala Yousafzai. I Am Malala. This is my story. Malala Yousafzai was only ten years old when the Taliban took control of her region. They said music was a crime. They said women weren't allowed to go to the market. They said girls couldn't go to school. Raised in a once-peaceful area of Pakistan transformed by terrorism, Malala was taught to stand up for what she believes. So she fought for her right to be educated. And on October 9, 2012, she nearly lost her life for the cause: She was shot point-blank while riding the bus on her way home from school. No one expected her to survive. Now Malala is an international symbol of peaceful protest and the youngest ever Nobel Peace Prize winner. In this Young Readers Edition of her bestselling memoir, which has been reimaged specifically for a younger audience and includes exclusive photos and material, we hear firsthand the remarkable story of a girl who knew from a young age that she wanted to change the world -- and did. Malala's powerful story will open your eyes to another world and will make you believe in hope, truth, miracles and the possibility that one person -- one young person -- can inspire change in her community and beyond.

Instant New York Times Bestseller A New York Times Notable

Book of 2016 A Time Magazine Top 10 Novel of 2016 A Times Literary Supplement Best Book of 2016 "Dazzling . . . A profound novel about the claims of identity, history, family, and the burdens of a broken world." —Maureen Corrigan, NPR's "Fresh Air" In the book of Genesis, when God calls out, "Abraham!" before ordering him to sacrifice his son, Isaac, Abraham responds, "Here I am." Later, when Isaac calls out, "My father!" before asking him why there is no animal to slaughter, Abraham responds, "Here I am." How do we fulfill our conflicting duties as father, husband, and son; wife and mother; child and adult? Jew and American? How can we claim our own identities when our lives are linked so closely to others'? These are the questions at the heart of Jonathan Safran Foer's first novel in eleven years—a work of extraordinary scope and heartbreaking intimacy. Unfolding over four tumultuous weeks in present-day Washington, D.C., Here I Am is the story of a fracturing family in a moment of crisis. As Jacob and Julia Bloch and their three sons are forced to confront the distances between the lives they think they want and the lives they are living, a catastrophic earthquake sets in motion a quickly escalating conflict in the Middle East. At stake is the meaning of home—and the fundamental question of how much aliveness one can bear. Showcasing the same high-energy inventiveness, hilarious irreverence, and emotional urgency that readers loved in his earlier work, Here I Am is Foer's most searching, hard-hitting, and grandly entertaining novel yet. It not only confirms Foer's stature as a dazzling literary talent but reveals a novelist who has fully come into his own as one of our most important writers.

Nobel Peace Prize winner and New York Times bestselling author Malala Yousafzai's first picture book, inspired by her own childhood. Malala's first picture book will inspire young readers everywhere to find the magic all around them. As a child in Pakistan, Malala made a wish for a magic pencil. She would use it to make everyone happy, to erase the smell of garbage from her city, to sleep an extra hour in the morning. But as she grew older, Malala saw that there were more important things to wish for. She saw a world that needed fixing. And even if she never found a magic pencil, Malala realized that she could still work hard every day to make her wishes come true. This beautifully illustrated volume tells Malala's story for a younger audience and shows them the worldview that allowed Malala to hold on to hope even in the most difficult of times. "This is a wonderful read for younger students that will also provide insight and encourage discussion about the wider world. ... The simplicity of Yousafzai's writing and the powerful message she sends, make this book inspirational for all." -- School Library Journal

Jag kommer från ett land som skapades vid midnatt. När jag nästan dog var klockan strax efter tolv på dagen. När talibanerna tog kontroll över Swatdalen i Pakistan vägrade en ofattbart modig flicka att låta sig tystas. Malala Yousafzai stred för alla flickors rätt till utbildning, vilket tisdagen den 9 oktober 2012 var nära att kosta henne livet. Malala var på väg hem då skolbussen stoppades av beväpnade talibaner. Hon sköts i huvudet på nära håll och det var få som trodde att hon skulle överleva. Sexton år gammal har Malala blivit en global symbol för fredliga protester och kampen för kvinnors rättigheter, och den yngsta någonsin att nomineras till Nobels fredspris. Malalas kamp har tagit henne på en osannolik resa, från en otillgänglig dalgång i norra Pakistan till FN:s korridorer i New York. Jag är Malala är den sanna berättelsen om en familj som tvingats bort från sitt hem av terrorister, om kampen för flickors rätt till utbildning, och om Malalas föräldrars obehagliga kärlek till sin dotter i ett samhälle som främst värdesätter söner. Det är en berättelse som visar att en enda persons röst kan förändra världen.

Excerpts from the book I saw the main entrance getting a sharp shock. That moment only in the cow house I saw the cow jumping. All the doors from the main gate to the storeroom were pushed one by one by some invisible power. In the end the storeroom door got a big shock. A wave of air entered the storeroom. The cow had given birth to a calf a few days ago. That calf was tied in the storeroom only. The calf was sleeping. But as the wind entered the room, the calf woke up and started bouncing. We brother and sister got scared. Then only I felt the breeze rotating around my neck with some pressure. I got scared if Guru Akhandanand wants to strangle me? * * * She screamed, 'I can't leave A.P.! A.P. is mine only! A.P. is mine! A.P....' I said, 'Say this to that lady!' She said fearfully, 'No! She is scary!' I asked, 'Does she have long teeth or scary face?' She said 'No! She is beautiful. But I am feeling fear from her.' I asked 'How old is that lady?' She said 'About 25 years. She is asking me to leave A.P. Call A.P. I have to go to my A.P.' * * * Then she looked at me and gave me a crooked and mysterious smile. Her face expressions were not of her. It was strange, cold and scary. Doesn't know why I felt a wave of fear running down my spine. I controlled myself and asked to her, 'What happened? Su? (I used to call her Su, short form of Sunita).' She smiled in a way like she was making fun of me. Then she said in a friendly but stone hard, ice cold way, 'You won't be able to save her. I will kill your SU drop by drop like this only.' * * * It was Tuesday night. I was practicing meditation by sitting in Padmasana posture. Suddenly I heard ankle's sound around me, like some female came and was walking around me. Without getting scared I kept practicing the small press world. He self-published much of his work as well as that of others, and it seemed like youth was on his side. What got in the way was the booze. 'A few beers at lunch and drinks around dinner turned into straight alcohol (vodka, whiskey, rum) from the first opening of the eyes on through to blackout.' Following another serious accident that he cannot remember (in this instance a face-first fall down a flight of stairs), Crites' family convince him to seek professional help. He believes his treatment will last only days, but it takes many long months. Through journal entries and correspondence with family and close friends, this is Crites' story, one that documents the months prior to, during, and immediately following his admission to a clinic for alcohol dependency. It is an uncompromising and ultimately tragic account, but filled with humour and insight in Crites' own inimitable style.
