 Four Past Midnight Stephen King
 These four chilling novellas, a feast fit for King fans old and new, provide some shocking answers. After all, past midnight is Stephen King's favorite time of day.... One Past Midnight: "The Langoliers" takes a red-eye flight from L.A. to Boston into a most unfriendly sky. Only eleven passengers survive, but landing in an eerily empty world makes them wish they hadn't. Stephen King | Four Past Midnight
 Four Past Midnight is a collection of novellas written by Stephen King in 1988 and 1989 and published in August 1990. It is his second book of this type, the first one being Different Seasons. The collection won the Bram Stoker Award in 1990 for Best Collection and was nominated for a Locus Award in 1991. In the introduction, King says that, while a collection of four novellas like Different Seasons, this book is more strictly horror with elements of the supernatural. Four Past Midnight - Wikipedia
 Synopsis
 In these horror tales, Stephen King gives four different visions in which the dividing line between reality and unreality disappears. The author has also written "Carrie", "The Bachman Books", "The Tommyknockers" and "The Shining".

 Four Past Midnight is a collection of four stories that some would call novellas, but really they are closer to novels. They were written when Stephen King was supposedly "retired." I think we can safely say, many novels and stories later, that he is never going to retire. Four Past Midnight by Stephen King - Goodreads

 FOUR PAST MIDNIGHT is a collection of four short stories written by the incomparable Stephen King. • Story number 1, THE LANGOLIERS, I've read before and seen the movie. It's great! It's a scrape-your-fingernails-along-the-arm-of-your-chair kind of story. A real white knuckler, if there ever was one.
