Young Explorers' Guide : The Search for Ingenious Treasures North Atlantic Books
This exciting guide for young explorers combines scientific facts, fascinating titbits, brilliant full-colour photography and sensitive illustrations to bring a wonderful variety of ocean creatures vibrantly to life. Children will enjoy poring over the colourful pages as they read about marine habitats such as sandy beaches, rocky shores, estuaries, coral reefs and kelp forests. Discover plant and animal groups, including molluscs, crustaceans, coastal birds, mammals and reptiles, among others. Learn to identify important species from each group, using picture field guides. Study the helpful holiday guides to find out what sea life to look out for along the shore - all the way from Walvis Bay to Mozambique. Find out why the ocean is vital to us, how it may be harmed by human activities and some of the ways in which we can help. Learn about the valuable work that marine scientists do. This introduction to the habitats, plants and creatures of the southern African seashores is a captivating celebration of ocean life and is sure to become a firm favourite with beachcombers of all ages.

Carnivorous plants are, without the shadow of a doubt, the member of the plant world that children find most intriguing! In a style that is simple and interesting as well as fun, this book brings together all of their characteristics along with many suggestions for growing them. Charles Darwin was the first to study these plants and recognize their extremely peculiar nature. He and his comically awkward assistant will guide the reader, knowledgeably mixing scientific and historical data with an endless array of curious facts about the most bizarre plant ever created by Mother Nature.

When Timmi and his friends find a secret message in an ancient book, they end up on a wild ride to unravel a mystery so profound it, will change their lives forever. Young Explorers is the Timmi Tobbson "early reader" series for adventurers and sleuths aged 6-8. Every page is fully illustrated, merging the visual appeal of a graphic novel with power of a text-based story to spark imagination. In typical Timmi Tobbson fashion, each Young Explorers book offers solve-them-yourself picture mysteries, but that's not all. Accompanying each story is additional content aimed at sparking interest in technology, history and science in general.

In Smithsonian Young Explorers: Dinosaurs, young readers go back in time with the Smithsonian and experience life among the dinosaurs. The perfect introduction to the fascinating world of dinosaurs, this playful and informative fact book teaches children how we learn about dinosaurs, how they are classified, and which dinosaurs ruled the land millions of years ago. Once young explorers have become paleontologists-in-training, they can continue their education by assembling the included dinosaur floor puzzle. The colorful puzzle and poster provide extra opportunities to learn about the different dinosaurs and engage children in the sciences. And once readers are ready to go on the hunt for their own dinosaur bones, the 32-page book, 130-piece puzzle, and map all tuck neatly into a snap-shut suitcase, ready to uncover the new greatest dinosaur that ever lived.

Which state flag was designed by a thirteen-year-old? Which state lets you keep any gems you find while mining at the Crater of Diamonds State Park? And which state is home to the second most-visited house in America? Journey across the country with the Smithsonian and learn all about what makes our nation so great with Smithsonian Young Explorers: 50 States. This alphabetically arranged compendium of state trivia contains information on state birds, animals, and flowers, famous state residents, and a gaggle of fun facts. Once kids 6 and up have become experts on Alabama through Wyoming, they can have more fun assembling the included 130-piece puzzle of the United States. The adorably illustrated puzzle and map gives kids extra opportunities to learn about the 50 states and basic geography. And once kids are ready to see the states themselves, the book, puzzle, and map all tuck neatly into a snap-shut suitcase, ready to hit the road.

Explorers Québec Amérique TV star, former SAS soldier, Guinness World Record holder, author [...] Bear Grylls is an inspiration for youngsters who want to make the most of life's adventures. [...] Soul Fuel for Young Adventurers takes Gryll's message and inspires children and young people to find courage and confidence. 'Faith doesn't mean you have to be especially religious. But, in a nutshell, my faith tells me that I am known, that I am secure and that I am loved - regardless of the storms I may find myself in from time to time, regardless of how often I fall and fail.' Illustrated throughout and appealing for a broad age range, these 80 readings, exploring themes of friendships, failure, courage, risk, and much, much more, will inspire young readers to face each day with purpose and confidence. 'Be brave. Embrace faith wherever you may find it. You have nothing to lose and everything to gain.' - Bear Grylls.

With its smart design, beautiful illustrations and perfect size to pop in a backpack, Take Me Outdoors is a fun, lively way to engage with the wild and natural world. Each of the five 'adventure' chapters help children to engage with their surroundings, from their own backgarden or local park, to a beach, forest or lakeside. As they complete lists, draw pictures and answer questions, they will be thinking carefully about the environment and nature as they experience it - what they can see, hear and feel, and how they can look after it. A final chapter allows them to compare their adventures, and there's also a useful glossary so they can learn new words and ideas. Fun, quirky and bursting with facts about birds, bugs and plants; the weather and the environment; expeditions and explorers; and the artists and writers who have been inspired by nature, this book is a must for children curious about the incredible world they live in. It's both a great keepsake and a tool for sparking creative writing.
