Prize Over the past forty years, recognition has become the dominant mode of negotiation and decolonization between the nation-state and Indigenous nations in North America. The term "recognition" shapes debates over Indigenous cultural distinctiveness, Indigenous rights to land and self-government, and Indigenous peoples' right to benefit from the development of their lands and resources. In a work of critically engaged political theory, Glen Sean Coulthard challenges recognition as a method of organizing difference and identity in liberal politics, questioning the assumption that contemporary difference and past histories of destructive colonialism between the state and Indigenous peoples can be reconciled through a process of acknowledgment. Beyond this, Coulthard examines an alternative politics—one that seeks to revalue, reconstruct, and redeploy Indigenous cultural practices based on self-recognition rather than on seeking appreciation from the very agents of colonialism. Coulthard demonstrates how a “place-based” modification of Karl Marx’s theory of “primitive accumulation” throws light on Indigenous–state relations in settler-colonial contexts and how Frantz Fanon’s critique of colonial recognition shows that this relationship reproduces itself over time. This framework strengthens his exploration of the ways that the politics of recognition has come to serve the interests of settler-colonial power. In addressing the core tenets of Indigenous resistance movements, like Red Power and Idle No More, Coulthard offers fresh insights into the politics of active decolonization. Macroeconomics, 20e Atlantic Publishers & Dist Root shows how the tools of network analysis can be used to understand great transitions in global economic history. Microeconomic Theory S. Chand Publishing The book makes a comprehensive and analytical study of theories of demand, production/cost and determination of price and output of products in different market structures. It also discusses theory of factor pricing and income distribution as wages, rent, interest and profits. Above all, it critically analyses the conditions of economic efficiency and maximum social welfare and causes of market failures. It takes a further lead with this revision by aligning its contents with the prescribed UGC model curriculum and new Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) syllabus.

Microeconomics 2e S.

Chand Publishing

This book begins with an introduction to economics highlighting the economic problem of scarcity and choice. Further, it goes on and discusses the scope of economics as well as acquaints the students with the methodologies of economics. Basic microeconomic concepts such as demand, supply, competitive market equilibrium, elasticity and indifference curve analysis of demand have been explained in a simple and lucid manner. The book also dwells into theories of production, distribution, rent, interest and profits. It also discusses the market structures prevailing in the capitalist economy, namely, perfect competition and imperfect competition; thoroughly highlighting the sub categories of imperfect competition such as monopolistic competition, oligopoly and monopoly. Concepts of average revenue and marginal revenue have also been discussed in the book.
