"I don't want her to have to cry her heart out as I have for almost every day of my adult life. I want her to be happy, always." When Scarlett Hays asks her doctor to ensure that her baby never has to suffer the pain and sorrow she has gone through herself, she thinks she's just doing what's best for her child. Fast forward sixteen years, and her daughter's bright happy world starts to fall apart. But how does someone who can't express sadness cope with their grief? Inspired by the heartache that followed the loss of a friend, "No Tears" questions how far a mother would go to protect her child from the pain and torment that comes with the human condition, and whether the best of intentions are that, or if they are just self-serving.

If yes, then keep reading... We have sex; we make love for our metamorphosis, to evolve. And we can evolve only if we live the sexual desire to the full, as a transforming force, which brings us to our individual and couple realization. Through sexuality our soul vibrates, lights up and our being gives birth to the unknown I who lives within us. Sexuality, actually, is Aphrodite's and his son Eros' gift to men. Having sex is good for love and, therefore, you have to do it always better, make it more appetizing and interesting. For example, by experimenting with various sexual positions, we can stimulate the sexual nerve centers and enhance our own and partner's eroticism. Of course, the imagination and creativity of the couple's members are indispensable, as is the predisposition of the couple to experimentation and participation. Having good sex, in fact, rewards individuals, makes them more creative, raises their mood and psycho physical well-being, because sex is - as already mentioned - the most important factor in a couple's life. Through sexuality, as well as the choice of preferred sexual positions, the couple expresses their personality, their culture, the type of relationship that exists between their members, marking their own and others' evolution. Instead "Tantric sex" is a way of increasing the passion in your sex. Tantric sex helps you to increase the intimacy and comfort levels that you share with your partner. It also helps you to derive enhanced satisfaction and pleasure from sex. Tantric sex is a much older concept than what people believe it to be. It is believed to be a very old Hindu practice. It helps a person to tune into his own energy centers and also helps him to align his energy centers with his partner's energy centers. There are no hard and fast rules for tantric sex. The last fifty years has seen a worldwide trend toward constitutional democracy. But can constitutionalism become truly global? Relying on historical examples of successfully implanted constitutional regimes, ranging from the older experiences in the United States and France to the relatively recent ones in Germany, Spain and South Africa, Michel Rosenfeld sheds light on the range of conditions necessary for the emergence, continuity and adaptability of a viable constitutional identity - citizenship, nationalism, multiculturalism, and human rights being important elements. The Identity of the Constitutional Subject is the first systematic analysis of the concept, drawing on philosophy, psychoanalysis, political theory and law from a comparative perspective to explore the relationship between the ideal of constitutionalism and the need to construct a common constitutional identity that is distinct from national, cultural, ethnic or religious identity. The Identity of the Constitutional Subject will be of interest to students and scholars in law, legal and political philosophy, political science, multicultural studies, international relations and US politics.

The contributors to this book have drawn on different mentors to provide a framework for understanding the sexual problems of the couples they see, and to inform the work they do. But whether Freud, Jung, Klein or Bowlby has been the progenitor of their own particular therapeutic narrative, the spirit of enquiry and curiosity is evident in their approach. This has created space to explore the dimensions of sex, love, hate and power in ways that allow the facts of life to emerge and be discovered as something unique and authentic to each couple. It has also created a platform from which new understandings may emerge to inform practice in the future.

Beginning in the late 1950s, representations of and narratives about sex proliferated on French and U.S. movie screens. Cinema began to display forms of sexuality that were no longer strictly associated with domesticity nor limited to heterosexual relations between loving couples. Women's bodies and queer sexualities became intensely charged figures of political contestation, aspiration, and allegory, central to new ways of imagining sexuality and to new liberal understandings of individual freedom and social responsibility. In Making Sex Public Damon R. Young tracks the emergence of two conflicting narratives: on the one hand, a new model of sex as harmoniously integrated into civic existence; on the other, an idea of women's and queer sexuality as corrosive to the very fabric of social life. Taking a transatlantic perspective from the late '50s through the present, from And God Created Woman and Barbarella to Cruising and Shortbus, Young argues that cinema participated in the transformation of the sexual subject while showing how women and queers were both agents and objects of that transformation.
