A few elements to consider when preparing your final paper: Now it is time to care about the presentation of your paper! ECS 15: Introduction to Computers Examples of suitable subject lines are "ECS 15 - lab 1", "ECS 15- term paper", etc. You are responsible for treating us and your fellow students politely and with respect. Take the time to be polite and respectful when emailing the instructors and TAs. ECS 15 ECS 15, Introduction to Computers Winter 2015. The Prospectus . The purpose of the Prospectus is to give you an opportunity to think through what you want to write about. A Prospectus is a statement outlining the main features of the paper that you intend to write. ECS 15, Introduction to Computers Goals: To prepare non-science majors to take advantage of computers in their respective majors by understanding their uses, limitations, and potential. Program Outcomes: This course is for non-majors. Overlap: ECS 15 overlaps with PLS 21 in the introduction to microcomputers and basic office tools. ECS 15 covers a significant amount of material on the computer networks and basic programming skills, which are not included in PLS
