Feudalism 2 Foolproof Walkthrough discussion on Kongregate Feudalism was the system in European medieval societies of the 10th to 13th centuries CE whereby a social hierarchy was established based on local administrative control and the distribution of land into units (fiefs). A landowner (lord) gave a fief, along with a promise of military and legal protection, in return for a payment of some kind from the person who received it (vassal). Feudalism - Ancient History Encyclopedia Feudalism: A Political System This was the political (and legally binding) relationship between both lords and their vassals that was bound by the homage paid between the two. This homage--or feudal contract--signified the exchange of land ( fief ) for loyalty and military service that could be called upon at any time. Lesson 2: "Feudalism and Manorialism" - Gibson's World History Feudalism, also known as the feudal system, was a combination of the legal, economic, military, and cultural customs that flourished in Medieval Europe between the 9th and 15th centuries. Broadly defined, it was a way of structuring society around relationships that were derived from the holding of land in exchange for service or labor.
