Taarifa ya mwaka na malinganisho ya hesabu Internationsl Institute of Islamic Thought (IIIT) What if God has had a plan for your life since the very beginning? Not just the beginning of your life, but from the foundations of faith itself? In Four Cups, pastor and New York Times best-selling author

Chris Hodges shares an astonishing truth: The key to your spiritual fulfillment is found in four promises that God first spoke to His people in the Old Testament, and that are still at the core of his heart and his plans for you today. God wants to rescue you; to deliver you from whatever holds you back; for you to live out His plan for your life; and for you to be part of a family that is making a difference. Steeped in Jewish history and tradition, yet breathing the transforming hope of Christ on every page, Four Cups will help you move forward on your spiritual journey. You'll understand the four stages of faith, believe the promises of God for your life . . . and discover what it means to be truly fulfilled. Hazlewood presents, analyzes, and compares data derived from surveys of employees in Nairobi and Dar es Salaam on such topics as the

The brief narrative, written as an extended letter, is a sequence of reminiscences—some wistful, some bitter—recounted by recently widowed Senegalese schoolteacher Ramatoulaye Fall. Addressed to a lifelong friend, Aissatou, it is a record of Ramatoulaye's emotional struggle for survival after her husband betrayed their marriage by taking a second wife.

This semi-autobiographical account is a perceptive testimony to the plight of educated and articulate Muslim women. Angered by the traditions that allow polygyny, they inhabit a social milieu dominated by attitudes and values that deny them status equal to men. Ramatoulaye hopes for a world where the best of old customs and new freedom can be combined. Considered a classic of contemporary African women's literature, So Long a Letter is a must-read for anyone interested in African literature and the passage from colonialism to modernism in a Muslim country. The idea for this book has grown out of

an
engagement
with Mafia
Island,
Tanzania over
the last forty-
five years,
during which
time I have made seven
research trips
there, and
published
numerous
articles and
books. Some people on the

island have
become close
friends,
indeed quasi-
kin, and I have been closely
involved in
their lives.
One such person, whom
I knew when
he was an
adolescent
back in 1965,
was Mikidadi Kichange, who treated me as
his older sister
for all the
years of our
friendship,
until his
untimely
death in 2002.
Apart from our
meetings
when I was in Tanzania, he shared
through
regular letters

his education,
training in
forestry,
national
service,
marriage and
the birth of
two daughters, the
care of many children of
relatives, his
employment
and his
founding of an
NGO for the betterment of the island.
Although Mikidadi never managed to
return to full-
time
education as
he had
wished, he
read widely in
Swahili,
English and Arabic. By the time of our
last meeting

in the summer of 2002, when we worked together for several months on Mafia, he had become a colleague and interlocutor, as well as a 'younger brother' and friend. Since his unexpected death in the autumn of 2002 at the age of 49 I have considered how he might be remembered by the writing of a book about his life which would also illustrate the profound changes which have taken place on Mafia Island, and in Tanzania more widely since independence. I would call this work biographical history, as well as historical biography in which the lives of ordinary people reveal their struggles, constraints, and, as in this case, an extraordinary ability to overcome their circumstances .

 Christian missions in Africa are commonly viewed as a blatant example of ethnocentrism . This stereotype partly exists because the day-to-day interaction between missionaries and Africans has so rarely been studied. This book shows how Africans and missionaries co-produced a Catholic Church in the Uluguru mountains of Eastern Tanzania in the late colonial period, thereby adapting each others' routines in the fields of initiation, education, magic, and religion. It explores how the presence of the mission resulted in a rift between spiritual and worldly magic, and in the underdevelopment of the capacity of Waluguru to manage their own practices of revelation. Kiswahili na elimu nchini Kenya Composition writing.
