9/11, American Empire, and Christian Faith - Global ... The American Empire And 9/11 (full-length Version with Notes) David Ray Griffin Introduction After the attacks of 9/11, I accepted the blowback thesis, according to which the attacks were revenge for U.S. foreign policy. This view led me to undertake an extensive study of the American empire, the very reality of which had been an embattled issue. The American Empire and 9/11 David Ray Griffin Immediately after 9/11, in fact, members of the Bush administration repeatedly referred to the attacks as an opportunity—in the words of Donald Rumsfeld, an opportunity “to refashion the world.” [39] Seeing this connection between 9/11 and US imperial ambitions can be a stimulus to face up fully to the awful truth about the American empire. 9/11 and the American Empire - Global ResearchGlobal ... The American Empire IN HIS 2002 BOOK American Empire, Andrew Bacevich pointed out that it had long been a "cherished American tradition [that] the United States is not and cannot be an empire." The words "American empire" were "fighting words," so that uttering them was an almost sure sign that the speaker was a left-wing critic of America's foreign policy. "The American Empire and 9/11" by Griffin, David Ray ... On the other hand, 9/11 serves as a revelation of the nature of the American empire—an empire that has been in the making, on a bipartisan basis, for a long time. 9/11 reveals the nature of the values that have underlay this empire-building project for over a century, especially the past 60 years. 9/11, American Empire, and Christian Faith - Global ... The fall of the American Empire. As we remember 9/11, It's strangely ironic that Napoleon Trump is Making America Fall Again (like "W") Domestic and global trends suggest that in 2025, just 15 years from now, the American century could all be over except for the shouting. The Decline and Fall of the American Empire After 9/11 ... If the term "American empire" is understood in multiple ways, this is all the more true of the term "9-11." For Americans who accept the official interpretation, 9-11 was a surprise attack on the US government and its people by Islamic terrorists.
